(talk2domhenry2009@yahoo.com)

I am Miss Chioma Cynthia Okoye, born into the humble family of Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Okoye in Enugu State, Nigeria. I studied International Relations and Politics at Coventry University and presently studying MA International development at the University of East Anglia.

I have been a member of the United Nations Association of the United Kingdom and USA, Institute of Fisheries Management, United Kingdom, and the American Political Science Association. I have also, managed a number of positions such as: Women Councilor (Coventry University student union), student mentor, Chairperson (Cancer Research Coventry University Challenge Group), Association of Nigerian Students and Welfare Secretary (Association of African Students Coventry University). "The best work of life is a good service to humanity" and "a candle loses nothing by lighting another candle".

I aspire to work with an organisation that is centered on helping people who are well-off in the world, helping people who are in need and enabling them to cross to some level of comfort and relieve. I am a pragmatic believer in becoming an instrument of positive change.
