

Ms. Gail Therese U. Padayhag, Indonesia

I am currently an undergraduate student at the University of San Carlos, Cebu, Philippines taking up Political Science major in International Relations and Foreign Service.

I am person who doesn't know how to give up, a lady who has an idealist vision for the world but would adapt realism to make things happen. I always have this idea that the world needs reformation. Societies should open their eyes and do something to make everyone's lives better, freedom from the status quo, free from any fear that would corrupt a person's soul.

Educating the youth about the basic human rights would make them realize that they can be unlimited, that they can be brave. The young generation is the hope of the future therefore the peoples of the world should show the youth the right path.

Spreading peace around the world is a very ambitious dream but it doesn't mean it's impossible, there is always a room for trying because if we wouldn't try then who's going to.
