I was born and raised in the India. My major in Arts from College of Arts – Delhi University, BFA (Bachelor in Fine Arts – Applied arts) I am also planning to study a Masters in Urban sewage treatment – Public Health.

I have attended the Youth Looking Beyond Disaster (LBD7) conference in Nepal 27 October to 31 October 2015. I am a frequent traveler, and through which I have learned and appreciated the different cultures of different people.

I had dedicated my last few years since graduation to personally build low cost public urinals because I believe public urination is the most uncourteous habit in our Capital! And I have a detailed observer of human behaviour in relation to urban habits of the uncultured.
