

Ms Deepti Paudel (India)

(mehdiptee@gmail.com)

My name is Deepti Paudel, currently pursuing my bachelors degree in the faculty of law. Being brought up in the village, and fond of travelling to rural areas, i find myself being easily connected with the peoples and their lifestyle in rural areas.

I have worked before as a volunteer for the organization HAMRO CHAHANA NEPAL, from the year 2011 to 2013, which works for the women and children in the Dolakha district. Currently I have been working as one of the board members for Youth's UNESCO Club, Nepal.

Besides, I have been actively volunteering and assisting different organizations. I find myself being attracted on studying philosophy and anthropology in days ahead and being keen on understanding people's psychology, I would wish to understand society, people and conflict in deeper scenario working in socio-psychology field.

Being a law student myself and belonging in the country where the baali* slaughtering animals for God's sake is common practice, I am continuously working for protection of animal rights and I would love to see myself working as one of the animal rights activist and ban the slaughtering system in coming days.
