Hi everyone ! I am a law student at Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM) Yogyakarta – Indonesia. I also work for anticorruption movement with the Center of Anticorruption Studies of UGM and some anticorruption communities in Yogyakarta City. I have a passion in student movement, leadership, and social empowerment so that I focus on them as committee, trainer, speaker, facilitator, volunteer, or participant.

Reading books, travelling, and mountaineering are my hobbies. And I am very passionate for writing. I have a deep conviction that words can change the world. So that, I keep writing as a freelance columnist on some newspapers and digital newsportals. I also do some researches and scientific writings about law.

In 2009, I attended the JENESYS Programme “East-Asia Future Leaders” in Japan as Indonesia’s delegation. Now, I joined the Youth Peace Ambassador International to work together and empower people for world’s peace.
