

Ms. Nora Evriani (Indonesia)

(leonora_ff@yahoo.com)

I was born in Bukittinggi on 9 August 1990. I'm a student of chemistry at the University of Andalas. Beside my activities of the College, I am also actively involved in several extracurricular activities both on campus and in government institutions. I'm a volunteer at the institute of child protection in west Sumatra since 2008 till now. This institution is meant to protect children from abuse, and other problems especially for the children who didn't have their parents like orphans, etc.

Beside that, I'm also a volunteer and coordinator for a youth centre at PKBI CEMARA of West Sumatra since 2007. I handle part of youth reproduction problem, and promote protection about HIV and AIDS program, and family planning. Recently, Cemara has a new program that focuses on disaster preparedness youth programs. This new program is developed to prepare the youth to take actions if the disasters happen like an earthquakes or tsunami.

One of the reason I came to YPA5 and LBD3 to join this forum is because i want to share my experiences and I want sharpen my skills about youth action programs that I will apply in my places later. By joining this program I wish I could have a strong network in the world, expand my knowledge about the disaster, diseases and other environment problems to create Indonesia as a better places in the future.