Definition of Peace and Culture

Peace is a way of being, doing and living in society that can be taught, developed, and best of all, improved upon.

Culture is about how we live our lives; how we think, speak and behave. When we do all these with positive values, then we live a culture of peace. It brings benefit to self and others.

Why We Should Reach The Youth With Peace Education

Youths are the instruments of Peace and Violence in the society or nation.

They are young people full of life, energetic, powerful, enthusiastic, passionate in doing what they believe.

They are suppose to promote peace culture in a society and bring development, rather they decide to part of conflict and violence because they do not have peace education, hence they are involved in diverse negative activities, such as:

-). Cultism
-). Political Thugs
-). Armed Robbery
-). Kidnapping
-). Terrorism
-). Assassin
-). Rape
-). Into Taking of Hard Drugs etc

If we understand that peace building activities that provides us with better understanding of our respective strenght and advantages in finding better efficient way of tackling global challenges.

The simple mathematics formula for peace mindset is $A+A = PMS$ and we can learn to create and implement the formula in our day today lives.

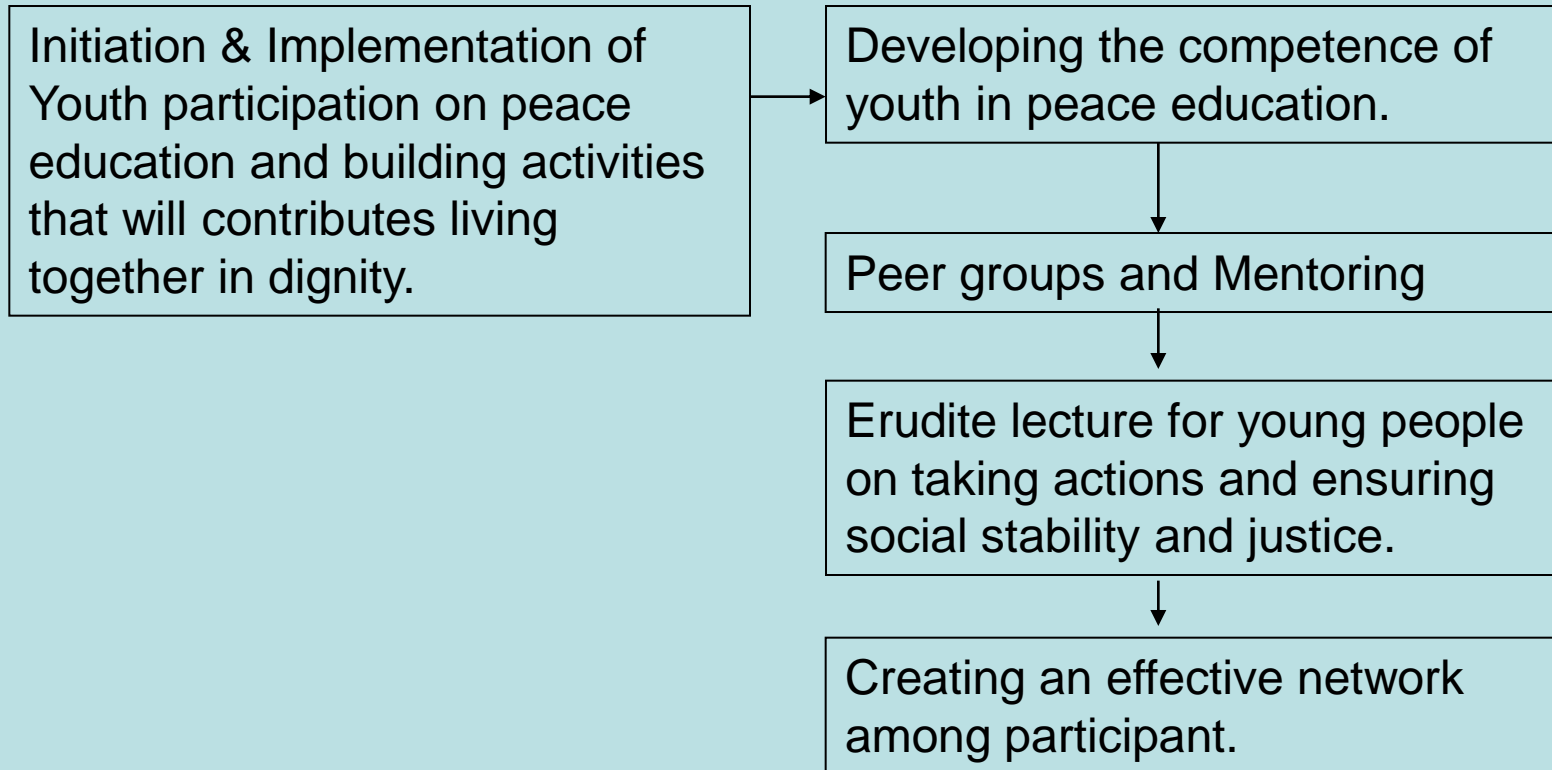

A + A simply means Awareness and Acceptance = Peace Mindset
