

Peace as a Bridge to Connect Youth to the Society

Ayana Saito

Department of Interdisciplinary Studies

Hosei University, Japan

joie@docomo.blackberry.com

My Goal:

- Children to have their own way/ definition of peace and to be the people that can spread peace in the future

Inspiration

- Japan being a busy, time conscious country
- Socializing
- Interest in childrens' behavior
- Children sharing their own opinions and using their imagination to learn in an engaging way

Timeline:

Ways to have children engaged in activities

Ask my mother (a teacher) for her cooperation

My mother tests methods on her students to see if effective

Carrying out plans during special occasions

Halloween party

Christmas party

Successful event!!

Negotiate with principal if classes of this type can be implemented in other classes

Carrying out activities to various grade levels

Introducing to other schools, too

Problems:

- Enthusiasm from school
- Support from people

Advantages:

- Versatility of the mind
- My mother as an English teacher
- Children living near each other
- No funds required

~Exhale hate, Inhale love~

Thank you for your attention!!