(amuawal@gmail.com)

My name is Akhmad Muawal Hasan. I was born in Banjarnegara on July 31st 1991. Since 2010, I am living in Karang Malang studying Sociology Education at Yogyakarta State University (UNY). I am interested in social science since high school. Moreover, I am passionate about philosophy, social and/or student movement, education, especially multicultural education and andragogy.

My objective is to be more active on campus, and become more involved in journalism. Since 2011, I joined LPM EKSPRESI, which is a Student Journalism Unit in UNY. Our products are EXPEDISI's bulletin which is published every two weeks covering issues regarding UNY and analyzing UNY's policies. We also publish a magazine and a book every year.

I want to practice my reporting skills by participating at the YPA6, so all the information, knowledge, and experience that I get from the event has become precious material to write my essay. John Lennon is one of my favourite singers. But the best are still Gallagher Brothers when they're in Oasis.
