

Samrach Chum, Cambodia

My name is Chum Samrach, I was born in 1987 in Phnom Penh City, Cambodia. I graduated from Norton University in Phnom Penh, Cambodia in 2009, earning my Bachelor's degree in Computer Science. Currently, I am working as the Web Master of National Committee for Sub-National for Democratic Development Secretariat, the Ministry of Interiors. I am also studying for another Bachelor's degree in English Language Based Bachelor of Law at Royal University of Law and Economics.

Like many others in Cambodia, my family was so poor after Khmer Rouge regime and we went through lots of difficulties in life. However, I never give up and there is always hope inside me, and this hope is the strongest energy in my life. With hope I believe I could change my life by transforming my dream into actions.

I really aspire in promoting peace through different environmental activities, because it is with peace and the good environment that people can live together with dignity. When people live with dignity, peace will be reality. I am really happy that the 6th YPA International enables me to create and develop my action plan named "Cyclo for peace" and I will put all of my energy to transform this action plan into ACTION!
