Mhen Nas

ONLINE COMPONENT

when i was

When I was 20, I was both the youngest news anchor and the first black female news anchor at Nashville's WLAC-TV. Today I'm considered as the most influential woman in the world.

I'm Oprah Winfrey.
Find out more about my youth activism at WhenIwas20.com

when i was 20

When I was 20, I gave my first speech on climate change and health to the International Federation of Medical Students' Association, the largest student organization in the world and the only student organization represented in the United Nations. In 2009, I helped establish the P3 Foundation, a youth-run anti-poverty organization. In 2010, I was named as the first Young New Zealander of the Year.

I am Divya Dhar.

Find out more at WhenIWas20.com

when was 20

When I was 20, I won a Tony Award, the highest distinction for theatre, for my role as Kim in the Broadway musical Miss Saigon. Since then, I have starred in various theatre productions in New York, London, and other cities. I have also served as the voice of Disney princesses Jasmine and Mulan.

I am Lea Salonga.

Find out more at WhenIWas20.com

when was 20

At the age of 14, I left my family in southern Philippines to look for work in Manila. In Manila, I worked as a manual labourer for warehouses and construction sites. Soon after, I discovered boxing and started my career as a professional boxer at age 16. Today, I am considered as the best 'pound-for-pound' boxer in the world.

I am Manny Pacquiao.

Find out more at When/Was20.com

when was 20

When I was 20, I finished my degree in political science with high honors (magna cum laude). I entered law school a few months after, where I topped the written examinations and was appointed as the first female editor-in-chief of the university student publication. Today, I am a senator in the Philippines and a nominee for the International Court of Justice of the United Nations.

I am Miriam Defensor Santiago.

Find out more at WhenIWas20.com

OFFLINE COMPONENT

How can YOU participate?

Visit and register at our website (www.WhenlWas20.com).

If you know anyone who would want to be part of this initiative or bring this campaign to their own organization, school, or community, please e-mail us at editor@wheniwas20.com.

Help us spread the word by 'liking' our Facebook page (www.facebook.com/WhenlWas20) or by following us on Twitter (www.twitter.com/WhenlWasTwenty).

Mhen Nas