

Mr. Ihwanul Kakim, (Indonesia)

(ihwanul.hakim@yahoo.com)

Yesterday is history, now is a gift, and tomorrow is a mystery. Today must be better than yesterday, and tomorrow better than today. This is a principal quote for me. We still have to struggle to be a better person today than yesterday, and fix the mistakes that have been done.

My name is Ihwanul Hakim, you can call me Nul, or Hakim. I am a 3rd year college student at the Sports Science Faculty, State University of Yogyakarta (UNY), majoring in Sports education. I am currently busy in following the activities of students who are members of the Student Legislative board of UNY, and in my local organization that build for social activity around my hometown, Yogyakarta.

I live in Bantul, Yogyakarta, Indonesia. I usually doing my activity in Bantul, because I love my Province, I wasted my time for study in Yogyakarta. From elementary until University I did in Yogyakarta, I want to build my region to be better for the social, politic, education , and more.

I'd like doing sports and social activities. When I was in junior high school, I often followed sports competitions, like basketball and swimming. But in the University, I'm don't follow sports competitions.

In addition to following the activities on campus, I also started extracurricular activities, such as named vice chairman of the organization that are around the house. Although considered trivial, we've started to get involved directly in the community who coined the course more complex problems to be solved. In this society organizations I am more familiar with the character of a person, and with a variety of different backgrounds. Here, I also received the title "Inspiratid youth" in my village. This activity was very useful when we later went directly to the public.

I follow the YPA 6 because I want to learn more about something that has many positive things, then I can apply them to manage myself, my organization, my environment, and maybe my country. Thank you.
