(lintang.gustika@gmail.com)

I am an undergraduate student of Universitas Gadjah Mada Statistics program in Mathematics and Natural Sciences Faculty. I am active in a social community that cares about children from poor families or orphanages. The purposes are to make them enjoy their life as kids and we want them to feel how to become the ordinary children that have a happy life without having to work to get money. I am active in the community making film festivals in an open air project which shows educational indie films. It is really nice hobby to join the community and give us happiness of helping others.

I have joined to become one of the volunteers during Mount Merapi's eruption in 2010. I managed the supplies and did trauma healing to the children as the victims of Mount Merapi's eruption. Right now I am active in KRI – Komunitas Relawan Indonesia or Volunteer Community of Indonesia. Based on my major and my experiences in social community, I want to become an analyst in the future
