

Mr. Andromeda Subandriyo, (Indonesia)

(androaja@gmail.com)

I was born on 12 June, 1992, in Tangerang, Indonesia. Graduated with a medical degree from Jenderal Soedirman University, soon I will be a co-assistant of Prof. Dr. Margono Soekarjo Hospital in Purwokerto Central Java. I am active in some organizations intra and extra campus. I was promoted as the chief of the English club, and I'm also the head of class in my campus. I also work as an assistant in the anatomy laboratory of Jenderal Soedirman University. While in this position, I have collaborated with the staff of social dedication department. Some programs included "guided village" and "guided school", and they were very rewarding as I have learned how to socialize with villagers, their habits and how they are eager to actively get more involved in the society.

Now, my ambition is to build awareness of peace, maintain and preserve it. The Youth Peace Ambassador is so awesome, and we can learn not only about ethics but many things such as culture and different perspectives from different nations. I believe that we can make peace in the world in our own way. As youth, we have to think out of the box, even like if there was no box. Even though the peace journey is endless, we can start from the very small thing. Let's engage our heart, our mind, and our power to strengthen all people's awareness together in contributing to our peace.
