

PEACE EDUCATION SYSTEM

- Paññāsāstra University of Cambodia
- Prak Sotheary

Peace

Peace is not merely the absent of war. It is both visible and invisible things that make sense to human being and it took place in this world. We cannot define peace just by definition. Things that make sense to you, however, may not make sense to other people. Differences in people, their age, where they live, their different life situations or holding different experiences may define the meaning of peace in different ways.

Objective

Build up a long lasting sustainable peace and guarantee the real existence of peace in this entire world. To build peace among youth is very important. In addition, to build up peace for all is more important. To build a long lasting peace we need to include it in the education system in Cambodia; thus, everyone can start their life with peace.

How to achieve?

To reach to this goal there are four steps that we need to take

Step 1: Supporters

- Participants
- Professors
- Researchers
- Experts
- UNESCO

Step 2: Peace books

- Elementary peace books:
 - Individual peace
 - Peace within the family
 - Peace among peers
 - Peace with the environment

Step 2: Peace books (cont.)

- ◉ Secondary peace books:
 - Implement peace within the history
 - Peace between nation
 - Fundamental right

Step 2: Peace books (cont.)

- High school peace books:
 - How to forgive and try to forget
 - Peace and justice
 - Love

- Step 3: training

Train the educators in order to produce human resources.

- ◉ Step 4:

Include peace education as one of other subjects in Cambodia education system.

Obstacles

- Financial problem
- Time consuming
- Lack of resources
- Difficult to train the teacher with strong ideology from their way of thinking
- Difficult to include it into the education system of the whole country.

Hope

Nothing can be achieved without hope. I hope that this action plan will succeed in the near future with the support from all participants, researchers, experts, and UNESCO. If Cambodia succeeds I hope peace will spread from here throughout the world until people of our world cannot define the meaning of war and social injustice.

Peace

- Peace is whatever took place in mind by mental and physical experienced.
- If peace is a justice and about the future, then it will not the absolute peace. However, it is the proportional peace which share common good.