Hello my name is Erwina or Salsa for short. I'm 21 years old from Jakarta, Indonesia. Right now, I'm studying at Universitas Gadjah Mada, Yogyakarta taking International Relations as my subject. Humanitarian law and human rights is one of my concerns therefore I joined a lot of groups such as debating, volunteering, etc.

My beloved country is geographically exposed to a lot of dangers like natural disasters. We experienced the tsunami, earthquake, mountain eruption, also floods. Therefore managing disaster is very important to save human life. Sadly, we have a poor system of disaster management and low awareness from society on how to protect people in time of disaster. This is one of the main reasons why I join Looking Beyond Disaster, to adsorb some skills and experiences about disaster management. Apart from that I really love travelling and meeting new people cause we might visit each other one day, so meeting friends from all over the world is such a big bonus that I'm really grateful for.
