I'm studying about School education (for elementary school, and with handicapped children...) at Tohoku Fukushi University. I want to learn about culture by participating in this forum positively outside my university.

My hometown Miyagi was damaged by the 3.11 Earthquake. However my hometown has beautiful nature, and beautiful culture, and amazing connection of people. So, I love my hometown.

I want to be an elementary school teacher in the near future. And I want to become the teacher who can talk about various things to a child. I want children to think about everything being possible for their local good points and how to solve problems themselves, and think that I want to grow up to a talented person promoting revival.
